STATE

: Establishment of a Senate Subcremittee to Investigate Activities and the Passible Effect upon Praject

CHKMA.

- The Washington Post carried a story today (comy stimehed) stating that Senator Stuart Sysington had been need to heed a new Senete suboggaittee to impestigate "masteful rivalry and declication" in meco wrograms.
- 2. The fact that Squator Symington has been a strong critic of the Administration defense policies leads me to magnet that his inquiries might well include the present DISCOUNT series. As you know, the press reaction to the recent DISCVENER Launching bighlighted the benefits to the "New in Space Program" and alluded to future technical advancements in venyons system devolopment. Also, our intention to clock future activities in an air of limited sourcey with only certain facts being given to the press and general public could make us a target of Mr. Symington's countities. In the nest, he has made several commute which reflect his dimlessure over the Absinistration tendency to hide behing security.
- 3. As you may have mathered by now. I see leading up to the suggestion that Hr. Symington be briefed on CECHA and our difficulties in dealing with the press to conceal the mission involved. In suggesting such action, however, I have several resons in mind, all of which would, I feel, have benefit to our present 1959 program and any 1960 activities we may be charged with.
- 4. You will recall the problems we inherited when we assumed the responsibility of the MINET progress. Many of the class given the great that a reconnelsance emphility was in being come from Congressional hearings where high government officials were questioned on the reconneissance effort. A brising of Smoster symbotics would alert him to the present progress and offer us on superfemily to seek his essistance in furthering the COMA cover. His previous position as Secretary of the Air Force under the Tremen Administration. I an sure left him with an appreciation of the problems we are faced with. To bring him into our confidence is a risk not without strong political overtones, but one I feel we must take or also suffer the results of probing questions asked of Agency heads who will be required to bonestly respond.

- 5. Perhaps ar approach to this situation is naive, however, I visualize a possible situation that would enable us to have certain quentions asked of Agency heads such as Mr. Roy Johnson or Dr. Herbert York which would permit them to respond along the lines of our cover story. Such questions and answers would of course have to be classed between Senator Symington and the particular Agency head achedulad to expect before the subconsittee. Such congressional hearings will obviously be of interest to the press and any statements made at such hearings will be taken as facts which the press will quete. We will have thus established a firm foundation to our present cover story and any future cover for recommissionee activities. Such comments would remove any suspicion presently held by certain technical reporters.
- 6. It is totally possible that the subconstitue will not interest itself in specific programs but rether seek only line of commend information in an effort to establish a more realistic division of responsibility within the missile community. Mastever the purpose of their impuries, I believe we are faced with the serious problem of being insivertently exposed. My main exacern is the possibility that during the course of questioning my Agency or Department heads affiliated with the COROMA program. questions are not to be asked which require answers that would destroy all of our cover efforts leaving us with nothing to being a 1960 hat on." A second exposure of the MS-117L program would moon diseator, for there are only sertain activities that can be conducted with satellites. Of considerable concern, for example, is any engestioning of Mr. Now Johnson (ARPA) who has been in strong opposition to the use of the Ther Boost for photographic recommaissance purposes. He is reportedly leaving government service and may feel free to sir his views on this matter before a congressional subconstittee, if questioned on the technical qualities of one system as opposed to smother.
- 7. An approach to Mr. Symington may not be the answer. Penhaps we should seek council with Sension Landon Johnson in an effort to determine whether specific programs are going to be exemined or can be avoided. I am not familiar with the means available to the Amency for approaching such individuals, housver, I do know that Ceneral Schriever is a very close personal friend of Senator Johnson and this relationship may be the means of inquiring into the scope of the subcresittee's concera.

8. I realize the difficulties and possible minusterstanding of may attempt to execute control over the substance of adversalties henrings. However, I believe my suggestions to be in the national interest and I make then for the sole purpose of protecting a capability that has great potential to the safety of the nation. I suggest your early consideration of an approach to this problem.
